Healthcare Reform Conversation: The Public Health Perspective

The Patient Protection & Affordability Care Act (PPACA) is now law. Over the next few years, there will be a shift of the emphasis of the health care system from acute care to prevention. When the act is fully implemented, it will change how health care is delivered and will have an impact on both state and local public health services. The Ohio Department of Health (ODH) is hosting a forum to discuss the impact the PPACA will have on public health in Ohio.

Participants who cannot attend the meeting in Columbus are encouraged to join the discussion through a live video conference from 10 satellite locations across the state. To find a satellite location see page two of this invitation.
